Kudos and Accolades

- Dr. Phil Greiner, director of the School of Nursing, has been elected Board Director, American Association of Colleges of Nursing. The board and its committees, task forces, and advisory groups shape the future of nursing education nationally.

- Drs. Eunjong Ko and Susan Woodruff, professors in the School of Social Work, published with partners in Imperial Valley an article in Journal of Cancer Education, “Barriers and Challenges of Cancer Patients and Their Experience with Patient Navigators in the Rural US/Mexico Border Region.”

- Dr. Erin P. Riley, professor in the Department of Anthropology, co-edited with Kerry M. Dore and Agustín Fuentes the book "Ethnoprimatology: A Practical Guide for Research at the Human-Nonhuman Primate Interface,” to be published this month by Cambridge University Press.

Events, Dates and Deadlines

2017 RecycleMania Competition
Join a national tournament of universities competing to minimize waste. Facilities Services encourages all students, faculty, and staff to participate in the 2017 RecycleMania competition Feb. 5 to April 1. Learn more on the SDSU RecycleMania Facebook page.

Periscope on Strategic Priorities

SDSU Georgia Takes Honors at International Education Fair
SDSU Georgia received the “Best Communication with Visitors Award” at the International Education Fair held Feb. 16-17 in Tbilisi, Georgia. More than 10,000 high school students attended. Pictured: The Minister of Education and Science of the nation of Georgia Sandro Jejelava greets SDSU – Georgia Dean, Dr. Kenneth D. Walsh (left). Photo also shows: Jenner Edelmann, Resident Country Director, Millennium Challenge Corporation (far right) and students. (Photo by Sofia Chaava)

SDSU Ranked a Top School for LGBTQ Students
SDSU ranked 11th in this year’s Most LGBTQ Supportive Colleges in the United States report. Other top-ranked universities include UC Berkeley, University of Wisconsin—Madison, Princeton, Columbia, Penn State, Emory, and the University of Michigan—Ann Arbor. Visit the Lendedu website for the full report.

SDSU Co-Hosts International Association of University Presidents (IAUP)
SDSU, the University of San Diego, and CETYS University in Tijuana, Mexico hosted the semi-annual meeting of the IAUP earlier this month. More than 60 university leaders from many regions of the world participated and discussed challenges and opportunities for innovation in higher education. John Eger, SDSU’s Zahn Professor of Creativity and Innovation served as keynote speaker. Provost Chukuka S. Enwemeka gave the opening remark and was one the panelists at the first session held at SDSU. For photos, visit: www.iaup-2017.com/february3. For more information, visit the University World News website.

Postscript

The SDSU Chronicle provides information about campus events and national and international-caliber faculty and staff accomplishments. If you would like to share an item for possible inclusion in future issues, please contact Jayla Lee at jnlee@sdsu.edu.